

MINUTES FROM MEMORY EP: START FROM THE BEGINNING

Lyrics

WITNESS

The silent witness he only watches / won't hear your prayers and any preaches / The silent witness he never sleeps/ won't hear any of your guilty pleas / The silent witness he sees everything/ You try to hide your dirt in a pit / The silent witness he stands next to you /Feels like a cold breeze passes through
Are these hands made to make ruins?/ Is there one glimmer of hope? /Bethink(ing). (and) remember(ing). / Listen to the inner voice/ You call yourself the pride of creation / Who has to pay the price? / Arrogance and ignorance./ Denying, betraying.
Prophets and leaders / The small and the great / Fearing the witness/ The witness who knows you all/ Drowning in a puddle / Gasping for breath /Fearing the witness / The witness who knows you all
How can so many be deceived? / Repeating same mistakes since years / Parroting empty, empty phrases, words so meaningless/ Is it the end of the beginning / The victory of apathy / Empty views, empty hands, empty words
Thousands of corpses and liters of blood /Pave your way which brings you closer to the edge / A world of ruins and misery / My eyes are open, are open so wide / I am your witness; I'll carry it to your grave / My eyes are open, are open so wide

ONLY PROMISES

It's enough, it's enough/ We've taken too much/ It's enough, it's enough/ There's so much blood/ It's high time to change/ To understand/ It's enough, it's enough/ We have to renounce/ It's enough, it's enough/ We should be ashamed/ There's no time to rest/ To recover
I saw the heaven/ And I saw love/ And all this beauty which froze the beat of my heart/ And all the demons/ And all this hate / We made this place from heaven to hell
It's enough, it's enough/ Everything decays
/ It's enough, it's enough/ In a poisoned world/ It's high time to change/ To understand/ It's enough, it's enough/ We will regret/ It's enough, it's enough/ We'll have to pay/ There's no time to rest/ To recover
It's just talk/ Empty promises/ In a dying world/ Which we can't repair
And every time we are depressed/ We promise to change and to repent/ But we falling back into old ways/ Repeat mistakes that we've done for years/ And every time we are in despair/ We promise to change ourselves/ But as soon as we stand up/ We forget and don't renounce
Just promises, Just promises
Surrounded by all this beauty/ We hold on the sinking ship/ Still didn't recognize /Not much remains.

THE GOOD TIMES

Just some more promises / And some more excuses / For today/ For yesterday/ For tomorrow/ And another empty glass / Disappointed faces left/ Promise hard to get better/ here and now and then / Shedding tears and drying tears/ Countless pleas, the things you've missed/ Turn to dust/ End in smoke/ Before you realize/ Locked up in a dark room/ Starring at the ground/ Hold on memories/ Not written in stone
So keep the key and try to remember/ The good times we had, nothing to forget/ So keep the key and try to remember/ The good times we had, everything that's left
And another bashful smile/Playing for a little while/ Looking back/ To remember/ Sticking to the rails/ Mirrors on the wall/ Broken into pieces/ Hold on memories/ So sorry for all
If you hurry up, you could catch the last train before all remains the same/ Old stories, old memories, you should keep it in your heart, forever and ever, for us/ If you hurry up, you could change the last chapter, and keep it in our hearts

DAY IN, DAY OUT

Get up, get dressed/ Day in, day out/ Don't question anything/ Entertainment, brain wash/ Makes it all bearable/ Don't question anything/ This is simply life/ And as long as you feel good/ Swallow your soma/ And no one is getting upset
Work hard, watch n wait/ Day in, day out/ The time is passing by/ Thousand and one night/ They burned deep in your heart
And when the corpses were carried to the grave/ No one will light a candle, no one will be brave
And we all, we just have one chance, one life/ Make it better, resist, Make it better, arise/ And you've always been silent, you've always ignored. And didn't see anything. / (And) you've always blamed others, always making excuses/ whenever it suites your plans
Desperate and hopeful/ So much to regret
Desperate and hopeful/ Nothing can be changed/
Desperate and hopeful/ So much have been said/
Desperate and hopeful/ Nothing can be changed/
Desperate and hopeful/ So much to forget/ Desperate and hopeful/ Nothing can be changed/ Desperate and hopeful/
So much has been wasted/ Desperate and hopeful/ Nothing will return/ Now I see

REPEAT, DELETE

She closed her eyes/ And all those things that happened in the past/ They don't hurt, anymore/ They seem to disappear/ This empty hands/ Her tired eyes get heavy and her feet/ They feel numb. She tries to move forward/ But she's not getting anywhere/ She realized/ (That) it makes no sense/ It's time to put an end/ No regrets/ And no sorrows/ Just let go everything
There are times to go/ There are things to change/ There are friends who've gone / Repeat, delete
Plenty of pages, pages filled with words/ They tell the story, so much was written / Nothing was left undone/ She presses delete, rewinds this tape / and starts from beginning/ New game, new luck. Maybe a new life/ Just let go everything
Forgotten feelings/ Forgotten times/ Hidden in darkness/ They can't hurt
